PRESIDENT IS SCORED

Senators Bailey and Tillman Make Sensational Remarks.

BAD FAITH CHARGED

South Carolinian Stated Hon. W. E.
Chandler Came to See Him as the Representative of the Chief Executive.

Washington, May 14.—After defending president from recent attacks in the senate, Mr. Carter of Montana charged Messrs. Bailey and Rayner with doing nothing to secure railroad rate legislation.

In reply, Senator Bailey said the only time the Democratic party was in power was during his first two terms in the house. He declared the president had not, in his letter accepting presidential nomination, said anything on the subject of regulating railroads.

Mr. Tillman read a typewritten document in which he stated the chief executive had sent ex-Senator Chandler to him. The latter said the president had stated senatorial lawyers were trying to defeat or injure the bill, and that Mr. Roosevelt wanted a court review incorporated, but limited to two points: First, an inquiry whether the interstate commission had acted beyond its authority; second, whether it had violated the constitutional rights of the carriers. He stated Senator Bailey and Attorney General Moody were consulted. Mr. Tillman stated further that Mr. Chandler informed him the president was heartily in favor of restricting injunctions.

Senator Tillman said that himself and Senator Bailey had informed Messrs. Moody and Chandler that after a canvass of the Democratic senators they were satisfied that enough could be secured to put the measure through. The South Carolina senator stated that on being informed the president favored the Allison amendments himself, Senator Bailey and ex-Senator Chandler called on Attorney General Moody. The latter, he asserted, told the others he was ignorant of the president's intention.

Mr. Tillman said he had been assured sufficient votes had been secured to incorporate an amendment limiting the court review favored by the president. He concluded by saying that had the president stood by his oft-repeated assertion that he would not yield one jot or tittle the senate would have passed the bill. Senator Lodge stated that portion of Mr. Chandler's statement that the president had come to a complete disagreement with the senatorial lawyers who were trying to defeat or injure the bill, naming Messrs. Knox, Spooner and Foraker, was pronounced by Mr. Roosevelt as an unqualified falsehood.

Senator Tillman said Sunday that on May 5 he insisted on having from ex-Senator Chandler a written statement of various conferences by the latter in connection with the plan of the president to control the railroad rate legislation by alliance with the Democrats of the senate, and Mr. Chandler gave him such a statement made prior to Saturday, May 12, and signed by Mr. Chandler. Mr. Tillman said that he would give out a portion of that statement relating to the interview of Mr. Chandler with the president on March 31, which had become a subject matter of dispute, but would retain the remainder for use in case any other parts of his statement in the senate on Saturday last should be denied.

MANY BALES LESS.

Analysis For Eight Months by Hester of Cotton Movement.

New Orleans, May 14.—Secretary Hester's analysis of the cotton movement for the eight months of the season from Sept. 1 to the close of April, inclusive, shows that compared with the crop movement last year Texas, including Indian Territory, has brought into sight this season, in round figures, 266,981 bales less. Other Gulf of Mexico states, which include Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, Missouri and Oklahoma, have marketed 1,104,000 less, and the group of Atlantic states, which includes North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Virginia, are 264,000 less, making the net decrease in the total crop marketed 1,634,000.

LARGE PLANT BURNS.

Covered Six Acres and Loss Is a Complete One.

Gulf Port, Miss., May 14.—The enormous plant of the New Orleans Naval Stores company and S. P. Shott & Co. were totally destroyed by fire Sunday, six acres occupied by the rosin yards, warehouses, commissary and storage rooms burning entirely. The fire is supposed to have originated in some loose hay in the commissary. The loss is about $400,000, with insurance $300,000.

MAGAZINES EXPLODED.

So Great the Noise Impression Was an Earthquake Took Place.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 14.—Four magazines on the testing grounds of the Union Metallic Cartridge company, on the East Side, exploded early Monday morning, shaking the whole city and causing great alarm among many persons, who believed there had been an earthquake. Windows were shattered, and in many houses crockery fell from shelves, but no serious damage is reported. There were two explosions with but a second's interval between, and a large amount of powder was destroyed. None of the company's buildings were damaged. So far as known no persons were hurt.

Following the explosion, many persons, clad only in their night garments, fled to the streets, believing the earthquake, recently predicted, had taken place. Many women became hysterical and it was some time before they were reassured.

RECORDS BROKEN.

More Than Three Thousand Laws Enacted by Present Congress.

Washington, May 14.—Files of the index desks show that the first session of the Fifty-ninth congress has broken all records in the matter of completed legislation up to this moment. Already more than 3,000 laws have been enacted, which is between 700 and 800 more than any preceding session up to the beginning of May. The greater part of this mass of laws is made up of bills of a private nature and only about 250 total enactments were general laws.

Evangelism and Memorials.

Chattanooga, May 14.—At the Auditorium Sunday afternoon messengers to the Southern Baptist convention held a meeting devoted to the dead and evangelism. Among the speakers were Revs. G. W. Truett and J. B. Gambrell of Texas.

"BLACK HAND" LETTERS

Indications that Italian Parsonage Was Destroyed by Incendiarism Which May Be Repeated.

Father Milletello, the priest of the Bryan Italian Catholic church, on yesterday made public the statement that he has received "Black Hand" letters, such as have often proved a menace in the larger cities of this country. The priest alleges that the first of these letters was received some time before the burning of the Italian Catholic parsonage, and that the letter made demands for money coupled with threats of burning his house. According to report other letters had previously been received by other Italian citizens making demands for money, and as nothing had come of any of them, the letter received by the priest was also ignored. His house subsequently burned. Since that time work has been begun on a new parsonage, and a second letter, also written in Italian, has been received, warning the priest that the new parsonage will also be destroyed. The letters were signed "Black Hand," and the last one is said to be lettered out in capitals. Father Milletello wishes it to be understood that the Italians heartily condemn this vicious incendiarism. The officers have the matter in hand.

SPRING AILMENTS COMMON.

More Cases of Spring Languor, etc., than in Former Years.

Physicians and druggists say there are more cases of illness in Bryan this Spring than in former years. Perhaps there is not much serious sickness, but Spring languor, loss of appetite, headaches, sleeplessness, back-aches, weakness and debility, indigestion and other ills that result from indigestion or an overworked stomach, are more common than they have been for some years past. This has resulted in an unusual demand for Mi-o-na stomach tablets at E.J.Jenkins. Before he felt that he could recommend this remedy, he tested it rigidly in many cases of heart-burn, indigestion, wind on the stomach, debility, and other troubles that result from a weakened digestion, with the greatest success.

In fact, Mi-o-na has been so uniformly successful in curing all stomach troubles that E.J.Jenkins gives a signed guarantee with every 50 cent box to refund the money if it does not cure.

COBB-THOMAS

Popular Couple Quietly Married at Cottonwood on Sunday.

At 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of the bride's mother in the Cottonwood community, Rev. J. M. Bullock of this city officiated at the marriage of Prof. J. L. Cobb and Miss Lizzie Thomas. The marriage was quietly solemnized and witnessed by relatives and a few friends. Prof. and Mrs. Cobb came to Bryan in the afternoon and left to visit at Hearne, Fort Worth and Abilene.

The bride is an accomplished and lovely young girl, a daughter of Mrs. Lucy Thomas, and was born and reared in the home where she was married. Prof. Cobb is the popular teacher of the Alexander school and president of the Brazos County Teachers' Institute. He came from Robertson county, and has taught in this county three years. He and his bride are much esteemed, and friends wish for them unbounded happiness.

THE TROUPE STATION

Many Varieties of Fruits Are Being Tested as to Their Adaptability.

College Station, Tex., May 12.—President Harrington reports, after his recent trip to Troupe, that the sub-experiment station there is in a most satisfactory condition. He says that it is well located; only about one and a half miles from town. It therefore serves the people of the immediate vicinity as a daily object lesson in the advanced methods of horticulture. It has been a practical success in the use of scientific methods from its beginning. The director has under way many experiments of great value to the people of the state when full results shall have been reached—experiments that even now show the absolute necessity to the agricultural interests of the state for the multiplication of sub-experiment stations operated under intelligent management.

It will undoubtedly be of interest to the farmers of the state to know in advance something about the work that is being done. Brief mention may, therefore, be made of a few of the most important features. The station is testing ninety varieties of peaches; only about forty of these are bearing this year for the first time. When the large acreage in Elbertas in this state is considered, all demanding labor and market at the same time, it is of paramount importance that some new shipping variety, either earlier or later than the Elbertas, should be established.

There are 120 varieties of grapes that have borne one year, and the vines are well set in fruit this season. In the course of succeeding seasons the station will be able to determine the varieties for different purposes best suited to Central-East Texas conditions. It is expected that the first results with grapes will be manifest this year.

Some fifty-five varieties of plums are being tested in a similar manner. These plums bore last year, but most of the fruit rotted on account of excessive summer rains.

Sixty varieties of apples are under test, but only five or six varieties of these will bear this year for the first time. Important and far-reaching results in the growth of apples in Texas are expected from these tests within the next few years. It is particularly important that the best varieties of summer apples should be proven and made known. Equally important work has been carried out with strawberries, dewberries and Irish potatoes.

While so much work has been undertaken along horticultural lines, farm crops have not been neglected. Especially important experiments have been inaugurated with alfalfa, cotton and corn; the cotton and corn experiments being in the main a duplicate of the work being done here at the central station by Prof. Bennett—work which has already been of great benefit to the farmers of the state.

The Troupe station has for three years been under the general control of Prof. E. J. Kyle of this college with Mr. W. H. Hotchkiss as superintendent at Troupe, and as stated above, the results have been highly satisfactory, although the work is just beginning to unfold its greatest usefulness.

BURGLARY AT MUMFORD.

Mumford, Texas, May 13.—The grocery store of T. P. Seymour was burglarized last night some time. The lock was prized off, which was on the outside. They got a gold watch and a six-shooter. About $1.50 is all that is missing at this time. No clew as to who did it.

A Shifting Landmark.

In the first years of navigation on western waters, says the author of "Early Steamboat Navigation on the Missouri River," pilots were forced to use all sorts of signals and marks to decide their courses. One had a custom of running a certain crossing if he came to it at night by the aid of a dog. The animal belonged to a family living in a house at the foot of the crossing directly in the course of the bend. Whenever a boat was coming this dog ran out to the bank, always in exactly the same place, which was in line with the channel, and barked his loudest. The pilot ran toward the sound of the barking with the utmost confidence. Unhappily the dog one night took a notion to change his stand and barked a little higher up. The next morning the boat was a hopeless wreck on a sand bar, into which the pilot had run at full speed.

Our Lead Pencils.

Many a boy is made happy these days by a present of half a dozen pencils with his name printed thereon in gold letters. Perhaps the name "lead pencil" will last through all time and eternity. The original pencil was really made of lead, and on the rough paper of the time made a clearly discernible mark. Germany led in its manufacture. Our earliest importations were much sought after, and none could be bought with other money than gold coin. A common "lead" pencil was almost worth its weight in gold, and a man who got a supply had to be well recommended. When a New York merchant advertised the arrival of a consignment of "lead pencils" the rush to buy was pell-mell. This seems incredible to us young roosters, who can buy a dozen pencils today for 10 cents.—New York Press.

HERBERT A. SPRAGUE, IMPERSONATOR

Lyceum Attraction, Opera House, Wednesday, May 16.

On account of the illness of W. C. Frost, who was to have closed the lyceum course on May 4, the bureau has substituted for this attraction the world-famed impersonator, Herbert A. Sprague. He comes under a guarantee to please the most critical. He will appear in "Rip Van Winkle" or "Merchant of Venice," or will give selections from both. The ability to represent in turn a half dozen characters or more in a play or story in one evening without the benefit of stage accessories or change of costume, to impersonate the grave and the gay, the dignified and the flippant, the learned and the simple, the morbid and the humorous, and to make such characters stand out as though represented by a distinct individual, born and trained with the characters presented, requires talent of a very high order. All this Mr. Sprague has done before hundreds of audiences to the delight of all who have heard him. Don't forget the date, May 16th. Tickets will be on sale at Haswell's Book Store Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

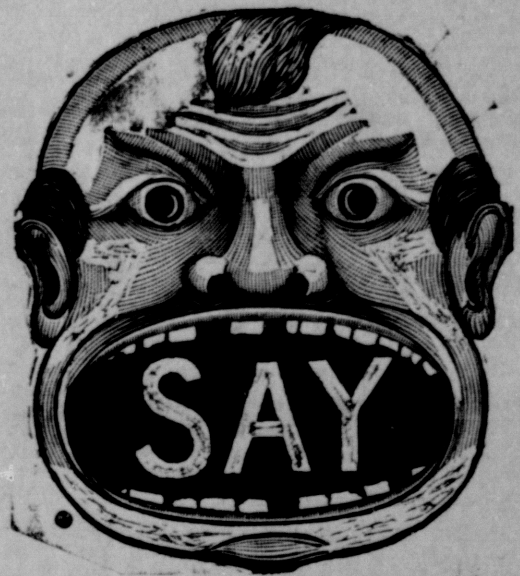

General admission will be 50 cents. A special rate will be made school children.

"Where were the kings of England crowned?" was the question on an examination paper.

Dowie Has Taken to His Bed and Fast Fails His Strength.

Chicago, May 12.—The condition of John Alexander Dowie is said to be nearing a critical stage. The venerable First Apostle has taken to his bed, and his strength is falling. The swelling of the extremities, which is a noticeable characteristic of his affliction, is said to have extended within a few inches of his heart. Dr. Blanks, who has been in attendance upon Dowie since his return from Mexico, said that he might, by reason of his great vitality, live a week or ten days, but that a fatal termination of the disease within two or three days will not be surprising.

Two Ways of Putting It.

Two groups of persons were seated in a railway station, according to Lippincott's Magazine. One consisted of a fashionably attired pair, the other of a pair who looked as if they were from the country. They had been there only a few minutes when a girl came in whose complexion was as nearly perfect as anything in this world ever is. While she was buying her ticket the young man remarked to the ladies with him:

"Isn't Miss Cransford a beauty? Her complexion is as perfect as a rose."

At the same time the other man clutched his wife's arm and whispered:

"Lord, Nan, hasn't that gal got a purty hide?"

Sterne and Garrick.

Sterne, who had the reputation of treating his wife very badly, was one day talking to Garrick in a sentimental way in praise of conjugal fidelity and love. "The husband," he declared, "who behaves unkindly to his wife deserves to have his house burned over his head."

"In that case," replied Garrick, "I hope your house is insured."

State press of the Dallas News, who has taken a great interest in the split log drag, as he does in anything calculated to advance the best interest of the state, sometime since expressed a desire to know how the drag would work on sandy roads, says the Denison Herald. He was convinced that it was allright on clay roads, but somewhat doubtful of its efficiency on sandy roads. Mr. Faires, who has charge of the wagon bridge over Red River, north of Denison, has been experimenting with one of these drags on the sandy roads leading to the bridge. The results are so satisfactory that he has now made four. The split log drag is a winner.

TRACT FUND.

Ten Thousand Dollars Appropriated For Printing These Documents.

Birmingham, Ala., May 12.—The report of the committee on colportage, providing a fund of $10,000 for printing and distributing of tracts was adopted by the Southern Methodist quadriennial conference.

The conference also adopted the report of the special committee recommending changes in the articles of religion allowing foreign conferences to submit the names of their countries for the United States.

A resolution was introduced by W. R. Lambuth and others, requesting the college of bishops to appoint a committee of five to meet a similar committee of the colored Methodists, to be provided for by the general conference, now in session in Memphis. The purpose of the conference was to do with the holding of institutes for colored preachers, the furtherance of educational work, the promotion of missionary effort at home and abroad and such questions as may pertain to federation or union of the African Methodist Episcopal church with other colored Methodist churches in the United States.

The church extension committee reported favorably on the proposition to erect a representative church building in Washington City, and reported a resolution calling on the church at large to raise $200,000, and Mount Vernon church, Washington, to become responsible for $75,000 additional for that purpose. A plan of campaign for the raising of the $200,000 was also submitted. The Sunday school committee, in a lengthy report, suggested numerous changes in the discipline, and made provision for the endowment of a chair of religious pedagogy and Sunday schools in Vanderbilt university. It also suggested the third Sunday in May for Children's day throughout the church.

The committee on appeals reversed the decision of the North Georgia conference suspending Rev. W. W. Wadsworth on the charge of immorality, the specific charge being "kissing a woman." Mr. Wadsworth was pastor of the Hartwell church, and was suspended for a year.

Because of the fact that he had to leave Friday afternoon, Dr. W. J. Starting, fraternal delegate from Canada, addressed the conference Friday morning. Bishop Hoss, who presided, responded.

The conference sustained a non-concurrent report from the Sunday schools committee in a memorial providing for the creation of the office of assistant superintendent. It provoked a lively discussion.

The special committee to consider the advisability of a joint committee to make a new statement of the Methodist articles of faith reported favorably, and a lively debate followed. In which Bishops Wilson, Hoss and Candler took part, opposing any change, while Bishop Hendrix spoke for broadening the work of the church. Bishop Galloway put a stop to further discussion on the part of the bishops by saying he hoped the time would never come when bishops should feel that they should enter into the discussion of the conference. Adjournment was taken before the question was put for a vote.

Lary of Fort Worth property valued at several thousand dollars, using, it is alleged, the proceeds to pay an indebtedness to his wife. The matter grows out of recent troubles of the bank, the cashier of which, T. E. Lary, was arrested charged with misappropriation of $14,000 of funds.

CHANDLER'S STATEMENT.

Ex-Senator Gives His Consent to Its Publication.

Washington, May 14.—Senator Tillman Sunday night gave out a portion of the signed statement given him by ex-Senator Chandler.

"On Saturday afternoon, March 31, 1906, a friend of mine came into my office and told me of the white house conference of that day, in which an understanding as to a limited court review had been reached with Senator Long and others, and told me that the president wished to get into communication with the Democrats, and would shortly ask us to come and see him. While he was talking, a messenger boy arrived with a letter to me from Mr. Loeb, as follows:

"White House, Washington, March 31, 1906.—My Dear Senator Chandler: The president requests me to say that he would be glad to have you come to the white house to see him at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Will you please let the bearer know whether you can come?"

"Very truly yours,

"I told the messenger that I would be there. At the same time and place appointed, the president said to me that he wished, through me, to get into communication with Mr. Tillman, Mr. Bailey and other Democratic senators. He stated his purpose slowly and carefully, and in exact substance his statement was this:

"That he had reached the conclusion that the best plan for railroad rate legislation was to expressly grant a court review, but to distinctly limit it to two points: First, an inquiry whether the interstate commerce commission had exceeded its authority, and second, an inquiry whether the constitutional rights of the carrier had been violated. He said that he had been much troubled by the advocacy of an unlimited court review by some of the lawyers of the senate, naming Senators Knox, Spooner and Foraker, as trying to injure or defeat the bill by ingenious constitutional arguments, but that he had come to a complete disagreement with them. He made this point emphatic by repetition; said that he would go thus far, and no farther, and that his decision would be unalterable. He declared that he wished to ascertain whether there could be united action in the senate among the friends of the bill so that it could be surely passed without injurious amendments, and he named various Republican senators whom he thought were true friends of the bill, but said that it would take nearly all the Democrats to carry the limitation and defeat all obnoxious provisions.

"After the president had made this state, I replied that I had reason to believe that most of the Democrats in the senate would sustain his limitation of the court's powers, but I was not sure that Mr. Bailey and Mr. Tillman would insist upon coupling with the limitation some restriction upon the power of the courts to issue injunctions against the orders of the commission. Before I had finished my statement on this point the president interrupted me, saying that I need not explain further because he was warmly in favor of such restriction."

"That evening I saw Mr. Tillman, and told him what had occurred."

Senator Tillman's statement was the principal topic in official circles Sunday. The senator had a number of callers at his apartments, with whom he talked freely about the matter, among whom were Senator Bailey and ex-Senator Chandler. Mr. Chandler had been urged by some of his friends to make public a statement over his own signature regarding the denial by Senator Lodge of the accuracy of the president's remarks in reference to Senators Spooner, Knox and Foraker. He declined, however, to be further brought into the controversy at this time, saying he would let the matter for the present rest on the statement made public by Mr. Tillman. It was with Mr. Chandler's consent that the portion of his written statement to Mr. Tillman of his conference with the president was made public.

Senator Lodge took dinner with the president Sunday. Subsequently Secretaries Root and Taft arrived at the white house and joined the president and Senator Lodge.

United States Supreme Court Stops Contention of Kentucky.

Washington, May 14.—Justice Peckham delivered an opinion in the supreme court of the United States in case of the Travelers' Life Insurance company vs. insurance commissioner of Kentucky in favor of the state. The case involved constitutionality of state law authorizing revocation of permits given to foreign insurance companies to do business in the state when such companies remove to Federal courts cases brought against them in state courts. The court held that such laws cover the right which the state may properly exercise. Justice Perkins held that the state may refuse to permit an outside company to do any business whatever within its borders. He, therefore, held that the state law was not in conflict with the Federal constitution. Justice Day read a dissenting opinion, in which Justice Harlan concurred.
